

U Thant Opposes Cease-Fire Until Goals Are Attained

U.N. Must Have Freedom From Attack, He Declares

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Acting Secretary-General U Thant was still holding out today against a cease-fire in Katanga until the United Nations has won all its objectives in fighting there.

He made that clear Friday night in replying to cabled pleas from the leaders of two French-speaking African countries that he "issue formal instructions for an immediate cease-fire in Katanga."

Thant told President Abbe Foulbert Youlou of the Congo—Brazzaville—and President Philibert Tsiranana of the Malagasy Republic he was considering their pleas carefully.

Demands Guarantees

But he said the United Nations could stop fighting only when it had freedom of movement and freedom from attack, plus clear guarantees that it could carry out completely all Congo resolutions "to the satisfaction of Security Council and General Assembly."

Those resolutions call for the removal of all foreign mercenaries from the Congo, uphold the territorial integrity of the country and demand an end to secessionist activities in President Moise Tshombe's Katanga.

President Youlou asked that the Security Council meet immediately to proclaim a cease-fire. But the council president, Omar Loutfi of the United Arab Republic, was not expected to convene the council till Tuesday or Wednesday.

Meanwhile U.N. troops in Katanga are waging a major offensive against Katanga troops. Some informants here predicted the U.N. forces would triumph over the weekend and could then pick up the mercenaries.

Thant set forth his stand after the United States declared, "The question of a cessation of hostilities is up to the United Nations."

The State Department's statement dealt with a message from Tshombe to President Kennedy Thursday. Tshombe offered to negotiate with Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula and appealed to Kennedy to name a negotiator to stop "useless bloodshed."

S. Viet Nam, U. S. Decide On Changes

Social Reform
Among Dozen
New Measures

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and South Viet Nam agreed on a dozen new steps—including measures for social reform and more representative government—to make U.S. aid more effective in combating communism in the Southeast Asian.

The increased support for South Viet Nam ordered Friday by President Kennedy indicates that firm agreement had been reached on a number of reform measures, informants said.

Among them:

1. An agreement by Diem to share some of his decision-making responsibilities with the South Viet Nam National Council.
2. An agreement by the South Viet Nam military to share more responsibility in meeting the Communist thrust with the American command stationed in South Viet Nam.

New Training

3. Adoption by the South Viet Nam leadership of new ideas on the training and deployment of the Viet Nam armed forces.

4. Acceptance of joint U.S.-Viet Nam teams to report on social and economic conditions in the country.

5. Acceptance by South Viet Nam of joint intelligence operations with U.S. military personnel in the campaign against the Communist Viet Cong infiltrators.

6. A decision to increase pay of militia forces and some civil servants to improve morale.

7. A crackdown on nepotism and corruption in the administration of certain districts.

8. Better utilization of Viet Nam's local currency and counterpart funds generated by the sale of U.S. aid commodities.

Guard, Reserve Callup Center Of House Study

Hearings Planned
Soon After Congress
Convenes Jan. 10

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's policy of calling up National Guardsmen and Reserves will get a thorough scrutiny by the House Veterans Affairs Committee early next year.

Chairman Olin E. Teague, D-Tex., disclosed Friday in an interview that he already has notified President Kennedy, the Veterans Administration and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that the committee would schedule hearings shortly after Congress convenes Jan. 10.

"We want to know what their plans are from now on," Teague said. "Are they going to continue calling up Reserves to meet crisis situations in the cold war?"

May Talk to Men

"I think we may go to some of the bases and talk to these men who have been called up," Teague said.

One of the two National Guard divisions called up came from Teague's state—the 49th Armored of Texas. The other was the 32nd Infantry from Wisconsin.

Roswell L. Gilpatric, deputy secretary of defense, told a news conference Thursday that in the future the United States might rely on more regular forces, using the Reserves and the Guard for longer-range mobilization.

He said the Pentagon was re-studying the problem.

Morale Problem

Kennedy took note of Reservists' morale at his Nov. 29 news conference. He said those called up might get out in less than a year and urged them not to

Texas District Fills Vacancy

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—Voters of Texas' 13th Congressional District ballot today for a successor to Democratic Rep. Frank Icard, who resigned to take an oil institute post.

The field contains one Republican and four Democrats.

If none gets more than the combined vote of all others, which seems likely, a runoff will be necessary. Gov. Price Daniel will set the runoff date between Jan. 22 and Feb. 6.

The district embraces 19 counties along the middle stretches of the Red River. It has a population of about 323,233, with an eligible voter strength of about 75,000.

Jets Observe Anniversary Of First Flight

KILL DEVIL HILLS, N.C. (AP)—Sixteen military jet planes streak through the skies at near supersonic speeds today over the sand flats of North Carolina's Outer Banks, where man's first powered flight was made 58 years ago.

The flyover signals the start of ceremonies at the Wright Brothers National Memorial commemorating Wilbur and Orville Wright's achievement of Dec. 17, 1903. The anniversary is being observed a day early this year because Dec. 17 falls on Sunday.

The Wright brothers failed in their first attempt to fly their rickety plane. That was on Dec. 14, 1903.

Wilbur Watched

Then, on the morning of Dec. 17, Orville climbed aboard the plane, which was on a wooden track that stretched 60 feet across the sand.

They had invited people living in the area to watch, but only three men from a life station, a fisherman and a boy were on hand.

After moving 40 feet down the track, the craft lifted, and Wilbur stopped running and stood watch. The plane rose about eight feet above the earth, dipped, rose again to about 10 feet, then set the plane to the sand. The flight had lasted 12 seconds. The plane had flown 120 feet.

For Short of Majority

The Reds actually fell more than a dozen votes short of even a simple majority. Twenty countries abstained from voting.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson declared the result had enforced Nationalist China's long-disputed right to hold its seat in the United Nations. Stevenson said he was "gratified" by the outcome of the first showdown on the seating question since the United States took over the China mainland in 1949.

U. S. Prestige Boosted

Peiping's Bid for U. N. Seat Rejected

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.S. prestige in the United Nations soared today with the stunning defeat of a Soviet-led attempt to seat Communist China in place of Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalists.

The General Assembly's 48-36 rebuff of Peiping's bid was hailed as a victory for the United States that finally met the 10-year-old China issue head-on in a test of strength with the Soviet Union.

The fact that only 36 nations voted for Red China surprised many delegates. It was obviously less than anticipated by the United States, which had sought to block the Communists with its proposal making China seating "an important question" requiring a two-thirds vote for adoption.

Britain voted with the United States on the two-thirds question, but swung with Russia on the proposal to seat Red China. France stayed with the United States throughout the balloting.

Finland, Denmark and Iceland, three Scandinavian countries that have relations with Peiping, voted to seat the Communists. Fifteen nations from Asia and Africa also voted for Red China.

Voting with the United States were most of the countries of Western Europe. So did all the Latin American nations except Cuba.

U. S. Heads West's Efforts to Reach Accord on Berlin

PARIS (AP)—The way lay open today for the United States to lead the West's quest for a Berlin bargain with the Soviet Union—but only on condition the Russians make major modifications in their policy.

A high U.S. source said the recent public statements of Soviet leaders do not lend an acceptable basis for negotiations.

President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan got the approval of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization foreign ministers to chart a cautious course for the West's next move.

Kennedy and Macmillan will meet in Bermuda Dec. 20 and 21. They are expected to draft a directive that will send the U.S. ambassador in Moscow, Llewellyn Thompson, to see Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko—and perhaps Premier Khrushchev himself—to explore prospects of a compromise on Berlin.

Castro's Son Visits Communists in Berlin

The official Communist East German news agency, ADN, reported Friday that young Castro was one of five members of the Cuban Young Rebels youth movement touring Communist countries.

Headache for Engineers

Plastic Wheels Expected to End Car Bumpiness in Senate Subway

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. Capitol engineers are keeping their fingers crossed, but they think they have a cure for a headache that has been plaguing them for two years—the rumbling, bumpy, grinding new Senate subway.

The answer: Plastic wheels.

Target of Wags

Ever since it opened in January 1960, the subway to the new Senate Office Building from the Capitol has been the butt of a thousand curbstome wags. A lady senator complained that the shiny steel-and-glass open cars went too fast and wind mused her hair.

Those given to nostalgia said that the old Senate subway, a quaint monorail affair with cars that looked like a large wicker basket, was a lot better—or any way more fun.

And the cost of the four new subway cars—$75,000 apiece—raised a lot of eyebrows. The entire new subway system, which links the old and new Senate office buildings with the Capitol, cost about $4.8 million, including cars, tunnels, terminal, elevators, paint and polish.

But the main headache was that the new subway just didn't work right. The rigid wheels screeched around the sharp curves and soon ground themselves out of true, giving a bumpy ride. The rails developed waves. Steel dust from the wheels and rails got into the intricate electric mechanisms and raised hob. Worst of all, senators complained.

Now Capitol engineers Walter Rubel and Harold Erickson hope they have the answer. They best railroad engineering and scrapped the steel wheels and rails and are equipping one car with flat wheels or rubber-like plastic. They run on a flat steel plate. Horizontally placed guide wheels running against a vertical side plate keep the car on the tracks.

Erickson hopes to get the new wheels back on a car and give the thing a full-scale running test by Monday or soon after. A similar system will be used for a subway to the new House Office Building now being built.

Who Caused Snafu?

Philip L. Roof, executive assistant to the Capitol architect, said the cost of the experimental changeover would be about $15,000 to $20,000, and will be absorbed with regular funds of the office of the architect.

Roof is reluctant to point a finger at anyone for the original snafu. He said the cars were designed in accordance with the best railroad engineering and built to rigid specifications.

Ann Refuses to Condone Lack Of Consideration for Relative

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My mother-in-law never interferes nor makes demands, but she knows how to get what she wants in clever little ways.

She's been having dinner with us every Sunday for years. She arrives in a taxi and can well afford it) but when it comes time to go home she says "I think I'll call a cab"—instead of going ahead and doing it. Naturally, my husband says, "Oh no, Mother, we'll drive you."

When we get to the car she always asks where she should sit—instead of getting into the back seat where she belongs. Of course my husband says, "Sit in front with me, Mother." This means I have to sit in back with the kids.

She's had some trouble with her hip but with a little effort she could get in the back seat and let husband and wife be together. You always say no one should come between a man and his wife. Right?—T. J.

Dear T. J.: If you think you're going to get me to support your shameful lack of consideration for your mother-in-law, by twisting my words, you rattled the wrong cage.

She sounds like a lovely person. The fact that she arrives in a taxi and asks where to sit when she is being driven home, proves it. The least you can do is be gracious about driving her home once a week and letting her sit beside her son.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please say something in defense of working mothers. The career girls in this office make cutting remarks about women who "run away from their family obligations in order to buy luxuries."

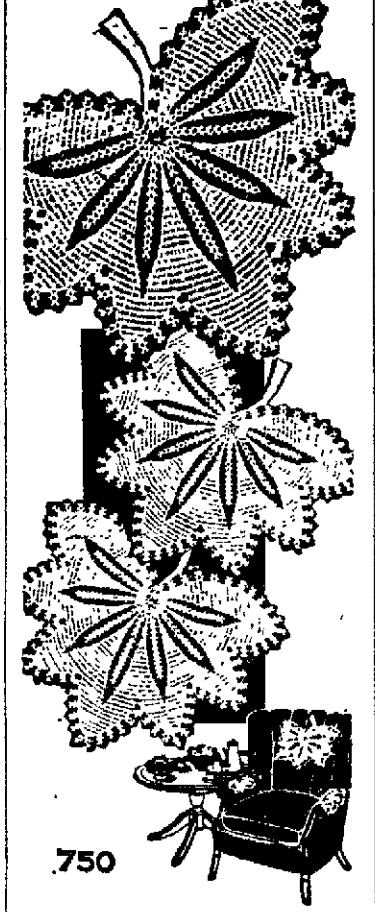

I married a man who had a weakness for liquor. I thought he'd get better but instead he got worse. I had three babies in four years. When the children started to school they had to wear their cousin's cast-off clothes. We were barely able to pay the rent and buy groceries. When the youngest boy was five I borrowed money from my brother and took a night-school business course. Today I have an excellent position and earn $110 a week.

We now have good furniture, a car, and the children no longer wear second-hand clothing. I'd love to quilt and stay home but can't. We need that $440 a month desperately. Some weeks my husband doesn't give me a dime. So please say a word in behalf of working mothers, Ann. Some of us have no choice.—Martha

Dear Martha: You said it—and well, too. My thanks for writing.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've heard that certain people can be allergic to other people. Is this my trouble?

My boy friend has a very scratchy beard. My skin is awfully sensitive. When he kisses me and rubs his face-against mine, my cheeks get red and itchy. We've been going together for six months and it seems to be getting worse. Maybe it's because he doesn't shave as often as he used to. Would you say I am allergic to him or what?—Melda

Dear Melda: This does not sound like a true allergy in the strict medical sense (where personality conflicts create chemical changes). Your skin irritation is probably the result of his scratchy beard.

Ask your boy friend to return to his courting-day shaving habits. This should help.

Fire Brick Lining for Fireplace

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: In the spring I plan to build a fire lace at the corner of our patio, using cement blocks. Is it necessary to use a special material for lining the inside of the fireplace?—Baltimore, Md.

A: The inside or combustion area of the fireplace should be lined with a fire brick to prevent damage to the cement blocks because of excessive heat.

Q: The wall around my kitchen range is a glazed white tile. This has turned brown in several areas; ordinary cleaning and scrubbing doesn't remove the staining. What do you suggest?

A: If the brown stain is only on the surface, try removing it with very fine steel wool and a strong detergent solution; or use one of the new spray-on grease removers for stoves and ovens, widely available at supermarkets, housewares and hardware stores, following label directions carefully. If the discoloration has penetrated (scorched) into the tile itself, I know of no way to remove the staining other than replacement of the tiles.

Roofing Felt

Q: We plan to use interlocking asphalt shingles on the roof of the home we are building. Is a layer of roofing felt necessary first?

A: With most interlocking shingles, usually a layer of medium weight roofing felt is advisable first. However, because of the various forms of interlocking shingles, obtain this type of information about proper installation of a particular product from the manufacturer (through the dealer) of the shingles.

Committee Can't Make Defense

land on his feet by returning the jack of diamonds at the second trick.

As it happened, West trusted the opening bid and led a heart. This produced the queen, king and ace of hearts at the first trick.

South cashed the kind of clubs and finessed with dummy's jack of clubs, losing to the queen. Now it was up to East to make a return.

Heart Best East could have defeated the contract by returning a heart. This would knock out dummy's jack. Declarer could run the clubs, but this would give him only seven tricks. West would get in with the ace of diamonds to cash the rest of the hearts, thus defeating the contract.

But East was a good committee member. Instead of returning his partner's suit, he tried a switch to spades.

This didn't dismay South. He could take the top spades before leading a heart to dummy. This gave him nine tricks before West had a chance to take the hearts.

Mind you, I wouldn't want to give the impression that you should always return your partner's suit. But you should have a good reason for switching. In this case, there was no reason for East to lead spades if his partner hadn't thought enough of the suit to lead it originally.

Our Children

Teachers Help New Americans

BY ANGELO PATRI

There are still in this country families of newcomers who have to find places for themselves in society. That is how this nation was built and is being built right now. Usually, there is in each family one ambitious child who stands out from the others and the lot of that child is often a hard one, but he persists — fortunately for his family and for this nation.

The children go to school, many of them because they have to by law. The ambitious one carries home the new ideas. First one that shows is likely to be a change in speech, a touch of accent, new phrasing and that is likely to bring wrath on her head (it is usually a girl): "She's putting on airs; she's too good for us; get on to her," and the like gentle words are her reward. But she persists and in time she will pull the family along with her.

Teachers Can Help It is this child, when he or she appears in the classroom, that needs the special, personal help of the teacher. If that teacher will, as many have done in the past and are doing this day, go out of his way to talk to this child and lend her or him a hand up, his reward will be great.

The parents of such children can do little to help them. Earning a living and learning the language and the ways of a new country take all the time and energy they have even if they know how to go about it, which they don't. But the teachers of the public schools know how; they can do wonders for such children and in doing so serve their country's good as effectively as though they entered the War Services — even better.

The public schools, through their teachers, act as the effective force that changes a foreigner into a good American citizen. Seldom indeed does a teacher receive the recognition due him in this regard. Seldom do the public schools in our big, crowded cities get the support they need and should be given ungrudgingly. They do the one essential thing in this situation: change the newcomer into the Old Settler and they do it through their teachers who single out the ambitious member of the new family, and help him to help his family.

Senator Hits Compromise School Bus Bill

O'Brien Says New Plan Discriminatory
In Character

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Sen. Leo O'Brien of Green Bay, one of the chief backers in the legislature of an extension of the school pupil transportation act to permit the transportation of private and parochial school pupils, has denounced the compromise version of the plan now before the legislature.

But O'Brien says he will vote for it, in spite of its discriminatory character, as probably the best program attainable at this session of the legislature.

The compromise bill, written by a conference committee of which O'Brien was a member, would carry such children not now eligible, but only to the nearest public school. After getting off the bus, they would be required to find their own way to the parochial school of their attendance.

Hopes For Nothing More
O'Brien said the conference committee should have taken one or the other of the two conflicting versions of a parochial school bus bill on which the two legislative houses became stalemated.

To bring in a totally new proposition, he said, "violates common sense."

"Our laws recognize the right of parents to determine which local school their children should attend. I think we are unfair and discriminatory when we try to pass a law that would treat any portion of our young citizens as not having equal rights with the rest," he added.

But he will vote for the conference committee bill—which is expected to be on the floor of the state assembly on Tuesday—because "we can presently hope for nothing more."

Funeral Services For Crash Victims

GREELEY, Colo. (AP) — Funerals were scheduled today for 6 of the 20 children killed Thursday when their school bus was smashed by a passenger train at a grade crossing.

Mayor Gordon Rissler said he would proclaim Sunday a day of mourning, calling on all residents to attend church and pray for the victims and their families.

The driver of the bus, Duane Harms, 23, was charged Friday with involuntary manslaughter. Released under $1,000 bond posted by a school district official, Harms told newsmen: "I feel terrible. I don't know how to say how terrible."

His bus, bound for Greeley with 37 pupils from a rural area southeast of here, was hit by a Union Pacific train traveling 79 miles per hour.

Harms was knocked unconscious but escaped with minor injuries.

Compromise Bill Expected to Yield About $169 Million

MADISON (AP)—Gov. Gaylord Nelson's financial adviser said Friday that the chief executive's compromise tax bill would raise $169 million in the current biennium.

The measure was passed by the Assembly earlier this week and is scheduled for debate by the Senate Tuesday.

Howard Koop, the adviser, said if the bill passes the Senate and is signed in the next two weeks, it will raise $60 million by June 30, 1962, and $109 million for the full year beginning the next day.

Koop said Nelson's original bill would have raised $183 million for the 1961-62 biennium, but Assembly amendments cut about $14 million from the total.

In its first six months in effect, he said, the bill would account for $27 million from sales taxes, $25 million from the one per cent raise in state income taxes and $8 million from withholding.

Christmas Has Come to Elm Tree with its wonderful and traditional fruit cake, assorted cookies, coffee cake, holiday bread and marzipan. Goodies for family enjoyment, thoughtful Christmas gifts, or just little remembrances, can be obtained this year.

The story of the fruit cake is a centuries ago, in the Nile River, the ancient Egyptians ground their own wheat into meal.

Every Woman Would Be Delighted with a bottle of cherished French perfume under her Christmas tree. Belling's Pharmacy has a wide selection of Guerlain perfumes, the choice of beautiful women for 120 years. Ask to see the beautiful Shalimar bottle, as distinctive as the perfume itself. Belling's has a variety of wonderful Christmas gifts for men and women.

The French perfume industry is as ancient as the restlessness of our time. The industry has learned from other countries how to integrate science with the able to match its achievements, unalterable standards of French nowhere does the perfume industry have so much to offer the world as a whole rival the traditions of quality that have been all-around standards set by given it undisputed leadership among the perfumers of the world.

There are two reasons why this world. The French have built up their techniques over whose sense of smell is especially many centuries. Secondly the keen and well trained and who creation of an exquisite perfume is aware that between diverse elements largely a matter of precise and senses a certain number of hard- confident human judgment, and monies exist but about which French taste in this, as in so there is no written rule many other things, has a subtlety. It is a very difficult trade and of perfection that is unequalled. It demands a retentive memory. We live in an age of science, and a long training of the sense of and new techniques are continuing, both of which have to be usually being invented to improve grafted to an inborn and undeniable industrial processes. Words able taste. It is a trade that is like productivity and automation taught nowhere. There are no instruments for measuring the subtleties of a perfume as sensitive try there is an air of permanence or as discriminating as the human nose.

From the House of Guerlain, then, comes the wonderful fragrances of France and beautiful women everywhere. It is an ideal gift for any lady this Christmas. Belling's Pharmacy is located at 204 E. College avenue.

Castro Could Benefit From Island Strife

Power Struggle in Trujillo's Wake Hurts U. S. Hopes

BY EDWIN A. LAHEY
Chicago Daily News Service

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic — A new beachhead for Fidel Castro may be in making an agonies of the Dominican Republic.

The threat of civil war growing out of the general strike in this country lessens any possibility for political climate favorable for a stable and representative government, which the United States would like to see develop.

Neither Castro nor international communism has any visible stake-out in the Dominican Republic.

But agents are nesting among the sugar workers and others, according to well informed sources. They need only some chaos to lay the groundwork for a new wave of Castroism in the Caribbean.

The failure of President Joaquin Balaguer and main opposition party of Dr. Viriato Fiallo, to reach an agreement on a provisional government has been a body blow to the interests of the United States.

The breakdown in negotiations caused the Fiallo group, known as the National Civic Union, to call the general strike which closed this ancient city tighter than a drum. Object of strike was to force President Balaguer out of office, and substitute a junta of members of the reform element.

Balaguer, as is everyone else in the government, is a leftover from the days of the slain dictator, Rafael L. Trujillo. Instead of the strike leaders of the National Civic Union, normally conservative and moderate were more militant than ever after President Balaguer's reactions. They said that the strike would go on until Balaguer gave up his office.

Life in the Dominican Republic meanwhile was at standstill. Soldiers patrolled the streets, but the other activity was visible with the government, in opposing the strike leaders of the National Civic Union, normally conservative and moderate were more militant than ever after President Balaguer's reactions. They said that the strike would go on until Balaguer gave up his office.

Gen. Pedro Rafael Rodriguez Echavarría, minister of the armed forces, appeared to line up

To Your Good Health

Don't Blame Menopause For Whole Range of Ills

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

"Dear Sir: What are the symptoms of menopause? Is it natural to be extremely nervous, or to have a fairly feeling, or even nausea or vomiting, headaches, chills, a tightness in the head, singing in the ears that comes and goes?"

"I am 45 and have all these symptoms. I had a complete check and my doctor tells me I am in excellent health, but suspects I am beginning to go through the change. — Mrs. E. S."

While fatigue and irritability are common—but far from universal—symptoms of menopause, the list you give is a little too long.

The ringing in the ears, plus nausea and vomiting, are not symptoms associated with menopause. Rather, they raise a question of whether some middle ear condition, as labyrinthitis, may not be present.

The middle ear, you see, is related to the sense of balance. A disturbance there can, among other things, have effects somewhat like those of seasickness, which of course is a malady related to disturbances in the balance.

Therefore if those particular symptoms continue, it might be well to have some additional medical investigation done in that direction.

Menopause, for some women, causes considerable discomfort.

with the government, in opposing the strike leaders of the National Civic Union, normally conservative and moderate were more militant than ever after President Balaguer's reactions. They said that the strike would go on until Balaguer gave up his office.

Life in the Dominican Republic meanwhile was at standstill. Soldiers patrolled the streets, but the other activity was visible with the government, in opposing the strike leaders of the National Civic Union, normally conservative and moderate were more militant than ever after President Balaguer's reactions. They said that the strike would go on until Balaguer gave up his office.

Gen. Pedro Rafael Rodriguez Echavarría, minister of the armed forces, appeared to line up

For some it causes almost none. For most, it is a nuisance for a time—fatigue, "hot flashes," and some irritability are among the commoner annoyances.

At the same time, there is a seeming inclination on the part of a great many people to dump any symptoms that occur at about the appropriate age into the catch-all answer of "menopause."

By the time any woman has reached the latter 40's (the most likely age for menopause) she is likely to have some odds and ends of physical troubles than when she was in her 20's or 30's. It just figures that way, don't you think?

Therefore it doesn't make the best sense to blame troubles automatically on "menopause" just because it's that time of life.

Logical Thinking

In short, it takes a bit of discrimination, a bit of logical thinking a modicum of information about what menopause does and doesn't mean, to sort out the temporary annoyances of menopause—if any—from the things that have absolutely no connection with it.

By way of illustration, one thing often attributed to menopause is a gain of weight. Menopause doesn't cause this. It's the fact that women, in the latter 40's, are likely to gain weight because of less exercise. Their children are grown, their husbands are settled in their jobs, they've learned to appreciate good food and they aren't so interested in running around to parties or athletics or trying to get all the housework done in one mad energetic burst. So—they put on weight.

"Dear Dr. Molner" Is there an exercise that can be done for a weak muscle in an eye? Whenever I am tired, my eyes tend to cross slightly.—J. H."

Here's one of those questions that I can at best answer with "Probably yes." Without expert advice, I'd have to say no. In short, a specialist probably can help you.

The POWER of FAITH

AP Newsfeatures

"And So It Was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered. And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn."

And from the humble manger would come a loving faith that would change the world.

Comiskey Regime in Chisox Organization Ends With Sale of Stock

11-Man Group Buys 46 Per Cent For $3.5 Million

CHICAGO (AP)—Eleven successful young men, all wanting to own part of a baseball team, purchased 46 per cent of Chicago White Sox stock from Charles Comiskey Friday.

The sale at an estimated $3.5 million brought to an end the association of the Comiskey name with the White Sox. The club was founded in 1900 by Comiskey's grandfather, Charles A. Comiskey.

The purchasing group, headed by Chicago attorney Thomas A. Reynolds Jr., 36, said it hoped to work in harmony with Arthur C. Allyn Jr., White Sox President who owns 54 per cent of the club. All are Chicagoans.

Allyn last June bought out his two majority controlling partners—Bill Veeck and Hank Greenberg—for an estimated $2.5 million.

33 to 41 Years

Referring to the new minority stockholders who range in age from 33 to 41 years, Allyn said "a nice bunch of people. I know most of the fellows and it should be a pleasure to do business with them."

Reynolds said "we realize our new group can't buy majority control although we have talked to Allyn. We just have a group in which everybody wanted to own part of a ball club."

No one in the group has had any previous connection with baseball except for William C. Bartholomay, a 33-year-old business executive who owns two shares of stock in the Chicago Cubs and five in the Baltimore Orioles.

Reynolds and Bartholomay are expected to get two seats on the club's five-man board of directors which will be reorganized Monday. Allyn controls the other three seats.

Comiskey, who has been affiliated with an oil investment company and a theatrical production in Chicago, said "I am out of baseball completely but if an opportunity should offer a suitable big league job in the future,

I would take it under consideration."

The end of the Comiskey regime began when Chuck's mother, Mrs. Grace Comiskey, widow of J. Louis Comiskey, died in 1956.

Mrs. Comiskey willed 500 more shares of stock to her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Rigney, than she did to Chuck. Chuck started a series of court battles to gain control of the club before his sister sold out to the Veeck-Greenberg combine in 1959.

Comiskey refused to cooperate with Veeck by selling part of his stock for tax write-off purposes and later resigned from his position as executive vice-president.

being able to gain any appreciable advantage. Two free throws by guard Mike Herres gave the hosts a 23-22 lead at intermission.

Herres led the Bulldog third quarter attack when he hit on four jump shots from around the circle to finally break the game open for New London.

The Bulldogs continued their scoring in the final stanza with the clutch shooting of Bill Barrington and Don Hanold. At one time, they held a twenty point lead over Kaukauna.

Well balanced scoring by New London spelled defeat for the Ghosts. Barrington was high man for New London with 13 points. He was followed by Hanold and Herres, with 12 each. Dave Emerich had 11. The game scoring honors went to Kaukauna's Tom Hiestand, who collected 19 points. Wallace took runner-up honors with 11 points.

Kaukauna's captain, John Robedaux, was forced to leave the game because of illness after the first half.

Statistically, both teams were even in the free throw department. New London made eight out of 14 while Kaukauna hit eight of 14. However the Bulldogs had a 24-17 edge from the floor.

Dodgers Trade Neal to Mets

Sox and receive one to complete the deal.

The trade that brought Neal to the Mets was one of the more important of the trading season. Neal, 30, has played second base during most of his six years in the National League.

"But he also has played some shortstop," a Met's spokesman said. "I wouldn't be surprised if (manager) Casey Stengel gives him first crack at that job. An infield of Gil Hodges at first, Elie Chacón at second, Neal at short and Don Zimmer at third would be a pretty good one."

Neal was the Dodgers' batting star in the 1959 World Series against Chicago. He hit a pair of homers, drove in six runs and batted .370. He slumped the next two seasons, and last year had 10 homers and a .235 average. Walls, 28, batted .280 for the Phillies last season.

Kenough hit .249 with nine homers for the Senators last season. Stenhouse had a 14-12 record with Jersey City of the International League, while Schmidt missed most of the season because of an injured knee.

Carey, the fourth player dealt off by the White Sox, had a .256 average in 95 games last season.

Hank Wants Shot at Any Title-Holder

DETROIT (AP)—"I want to fight a champion, any champion," middleweight Henry Hank shouted in his dressing room after winning a unanimous 10-round decision over Chic Calderwood, the British Empire's light-heavyweight king.

Hank pounded Calderwood to the canvas with body punches in the third round and turned Chic's face into a bloody mask late in their fight Friday night.

In the third round Hank smashed Calderwood's body, driving in a right and a steaming left. The Scot grimaced in pain, clutched his belly and sank to the canvas for an eight-count.

Hank staggered Calderwood with a left and right to the head in the fourth, but the Scot fired back strongly and at the bell winked broadly at his shorter opponent.

Asked about his plans now, Hank replied, "I want to fight a champion, any champion, middleweight or light-heavyweight and it doesn't make any difference which share of the championship they hold."

Jackie Jensen Tells Red Sox He Will Retire

Controversial Career Appears to be at End for Outfielder

BOSTON (AP)—Jackie Jensen's brilliant but controversial athletic career—which includes football stardom and one of baseball's highest awards—appears to be at an end.

The 34-year-old outfielder indicated to his Boston Red Sox employers Friday night that he will retire from baseball to devote himself fulltime to business in Nevada and California.

The apparent decision follows by only a few days announcement by the Red Sox of a unique travel schedule to fit around Jensen's much-publicized fear of airplane travel.

The Red Sox had only this week worked out a special railroad itinerary for the broad shouldered athlete which would enable him to forego all of the Red Sox chartered planes and miss only eight or 10 games. Under the plan, Jensen would have been docked for the games missed.

Not Expected

But Red Sox publicist Bill Crawley disclosed Friday night that though the club had sent him a 1962 contract, "we don't expect him to sign it."

The seeming decision to quit baseball was not much of a surprise.

Jensen quit the club with one game left to play at the end of the 1959 season—only one year after he was named to the American League's most valuable player—and returned home. He later announced he was quitting the game for good.

Darlene Hard Ranked No. 1

Leads Women's Net Ratings for Second Straight Year

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Darlene Hard, the hard-hitting U.S. women's champion from Long Beach, Calif., was ranked No. 1 in the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association rankings Friday for the second straight year.

At 25, she was the oldest player among the top 10—a list dominated by Californians.

Karen Hantze of Chula Vista, Calif., the 1960 junior champion and the most brilliant of the young crop, was spotted No. 2 again. She is 19.

Five of the top 10 rated players are 18 years old. Five of them come from California.

Rickey Missing

Missing from this year's rankings was Nancy Rickey of San Angelo, Tex., rated No. 3 in 1960. Miss Rickey hasn't been competing in tournament play since injuring her back at Wimbledon.

Miss Hard won the right to the No. 1 rating with her victory over Ann Haydon of Great Britain in the Nationals at Forest Hills, N.Y., last September. She has been a ranking player since 1954 when she campaigned as a junior.

Katherine Hubbell of Conway, N.H., is the top ranked senior. The recommended rankings will be officially adopted by the USLTA at its annual meeting Feb. 3 in Los Angeles.

AFL Title Game To be Televised

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Broadcasting Company said Tuesday it would televise the championship game of the American Football League from San Diego, Calif., on Sunday Dec. 24, starting at 4:15 p.m., EST.

Frank Robinson Wins Second Straight NL Slugging Title

CINCINNATI (AP)—Frank Robinson, hard-hitting outfielder of the pennant-winning Cincinnati Reds, won the National League slugging title for the second straight year, the official statistics revealed today.

Robinson, voted the circuit's most valuable player last month, collected 333 total bases in 545 times at bat for a .611 slugging mark. Orlando Cepeda of the San Francisco Giants was the runnerup with a .609 average.

Most Strike Outs

Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves had the most total bases for the third consecutive season, 358, but finished third in the slugging competition with .594. He was followed by Willie Mays, San Francisco .584; Dick Stuart, Pittsburgh .581; George Altman, Chicago .560 and Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh, the batting champion, .559.

Robinson was also the most feared batter in the league. He received the most intentional walks, 23. The Pirates' first baseman, had the most strikeouts, 121 while Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews had 119.

Deaf-Mute Outfielder William Hoy, Dies at 99

CINCINNATI (AP)—For years, people talked about the way William (Dummy) Hoy bowed out of baseball in 1903.

The flashy deaf-mute outfielder who lived to be called the oldest former major leaguer was then 41. He was playing for Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast Winter League and his last play was a ninth-inning catch in thick fog that retired the opposition and clinched Los Angeles' pennant for the year.

Hoy, who returned to his native Ohio to try farming after ending his major league career, died Friday at age 99 after a brief illness.

Hoy went to Los Angeles after 1,792 games in the major leagues and a .291 lifetime batting average.

Born in Hocktown, Ohio, on May 23, 1862, Hoy lost his hearing as a child after being stricken with meningitis. Nevertheless, he liked to play baseball and in 1886 began playing professionally for Oshkosh of the Northwestern League.

Fielding Record

Two years later, the Washington Senators took him. For them, Hoy set a fielding record that still stands.

On June 19, 1889, the Senators were playing Indianapolis, then also a National League city. That day, Hoy threw out three batters.

He kept his keen interest in baseball and often appeared for oldtimers' events. Last October he tossed out the ball for the first World Series game played at Crosley Field.

Shortly after that, Hoy became sick. He died in Christ Hospital. Surviving are his son, Judge Carson Hoy of the Hamilton County Common Pleas Court; a daughter, Mrs. Clover Skaggs of Sacramento, Calif.; seven grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Dick Tiger to Meet Pickett In TV Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Pickett, an unranked 22-year-old New Yorker, gets his big chance to-night when he takes on third-ranked Dick Tiger, the British Empire middleweight champion from Nigeria, in a television headliner at Madison Square Garden.

The 10-rounder will be telecast (ABC-TV, 10 p.m., EST) nationally. Pickett, a bright prospect, gained the starting role when Cuba's Florentino Fernandez couldn't get a visa in time for his scheduled scrap with Tiger. The Pickett-Tiger winner will meet Fernandez in the Garden in January.

The step up in class may be too great for Pickett. Right now the 32-year-old Tiger rates as highly as either one of the division's two champions—Gene Fullmer and Britain's Terry Downes.

The Nigerian has won four straight, including consecutive knockouts of Willie Greaves, Ace Armstrong and Spider Webb. He is strong, experienced and talented. His record is 42-12-2, including 13 knockouts. He has displayed terrific power in the last year. Pickett, like Tiger, combines boxing skill and power. He has won nine straight in building up a 24-1 record. Billy the Kid, however, hasn't met anyone close to Tiger's calibre.

Scoring will be by the rounds system.

The deal was a straight player swap with no cash involved. The interleague trading deadline ends today.

In 1894, Hoy joined the Cincinnati Reds. He stayed in the Queen City until 1898 when he went to Louisville for two seasons and then spent a summer with the Chicago White Sox. He returned to the Reds in 1902 for his last major league season.

After retiring, Hoy also returned to Cincinnati and bought a farm in what is now suburban Mount Healthy.

He kept his keen interest in baseball and often appeared for oldtimers' events. Last October he tossed out the ball for the first World Series game played at Crosley Field.

Shortly after that, Hoy became sick. He died in Christ Hospital. Surviving are his son, Judge Carson Hoy of the Hamilton County Common Pleas Court; a daughter, Mrs. Clover Skaggs of Sacramento, Calif.; seven grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Yankees Obtain Marshall Bridges From Cincinnati

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees obtained relief pitcher Marshall Bridges from the Cincinnati Reds Thursday in exchange for catcher Jesse Gonder.

Bridges, a 30-year-old southpaw, came up to the National League with St. Louis in 1959 and had a 6-3 won-loss record. He split the 1960 season with St. Louis and Cincinnati and had a 6-2 mark. Bridges spent part of last season with Cincinnati and was 0-1 before being farmed out to Rochester of the International League. There he wound up with a 6-8 record and a 3.51 earned run average.

Gonder, a southpaw swinger, was originally in the Reds' chain of command in 1960 and 1961. Gonder, 25, spent most of last season with Richmond of the International League and hit .226.

The deal was a straight player swap with no cash involved. The interleague trading deadline ends today.

Steinmetz, before he left, pocketed Bluejay point honors with 16. None of the other Jays hit in the double columns.

38 Per Cent Clip

Unofficially, Neenah made 30 baskets in 79 attempts for 38 per cent accuracy. Many of the tries were rebound tips. The victors made eight baskets in two of the periods and seven in the other two.

Menasha only made 14 goals in 62 tries for about a 23 per cent clip. Its biggest output was five in the 17-point second frame. The Jays only canned six of their 31 throws at the hoop in the second half.

Gilbert Dix, Neenah reserve guard, suffered a possible broken collar bone in the third period.

for the league championship at Green Bay Dec. 31.

Lombardi said he fears only one thing Sunday—possible injuries to other key men.

He has been telling his players in practice sessions this week "that you won't get hurt if you go all out."

The coach said that the Packers plan to return to Wisconsin after the Los Angeles game so that the players can get used to the weather there.

The weather here has been pleasant with plenty of sunshine. In Green Bay it has been near the zero mark most of the week and there has been considerable snow.

"We might as well get used to the weather in Green Bay right away," Lombardi said. "From what I hear, we are going to have a lot of shoveling to find a place to practice."

The Green Bay - Los Angeles game is expected to draw a crowd of 50,000 despite the fact that the Rams have been subjected to considerable criticism recently because of reported team dissension.

Giants Favored to Tip Browns Sunday

New York Can Wrap Up Title; Lions Slim Pick Over Eagles

BY ROBERT MOORE

The New York Giants are favored by a touchdown Sunday to beat the Cleveland Browns in New York's Yankee Stadium and win the National Football League's Eastern Conference championship on the final day of the regular season.

The oddsmakers have also established the Detroit Lions as a 2½-point favorite to best the Philadelphia Eagles, only team left which could still cause the Giants trouble in the title race, in their game at Detroit.

The defending champion Eagles, trailing the Giants by one game, can do no more than tie the New Yorkers at best and necessitate a playoff for the East crown in New York Dec. 24.

So if the oddsmakers are just half right in their predictions, the Giants are certain to take over as Eastern champions by nightfall Sunday, setting the stage for the NFL title playoff with the Western flag-winning Packers in Green Bay Dec. 31.

Anxious to Win

The Giants, though, are anxious to beat the Browns and take the title without backing into it. Too, if they lose to Cleveland, there's a chance—and a good one—that Philadelphia will conquer Detroit and then there's that playoff with the Eagles. New York just did manage to beat the Eagles 28-24 last weekend for a two-game series sweep, and the Giants are aware a third meeting with the Eagles might prove the charm for Philadelphia.

Other games Sunday, none of which has any bearing on first or second in either division, send Green Bay to Los Angeles, Minnesota to Chicago, Pittsburgh to St. Louis and Dallas to Washington. Baltimore played at San Francisco today.

Detroit, for certain, and Cleveland, possibly, would gain berths in the NFL's Runner-up Bowl at Miami Jan. 6 with victories Sunday. The Lions would clinch second in the West. The Browns would get the Miami trip if the Eagles lost to Detroit by virtue of a 65-51 margin in total points scored in the two Cleveland-Philadelphia games, which they split.

The Giants spanked the Browns 37-21 Nov. 26. And Coach Allie Sherman undoubtedly will give Cleveland some of the same medicine that was effective the first time—a lot of passing by Y. A. Tittle or Charley Conerly sprinkled with the running of Alex Webster and Bobby Gaiters.

Score Early

Sherman has already served notice to the Giants he wants them to score early and force the Browns to discard the running of Jimmy Brown, the league's top rusher, and Bobby Mitchell in favor of Milt Plum's passing. Plum leads the NFL in that department.

Plum and Brown hope to come up with outstanding performances and bolster their chances of finishing first in their specialties. Brown has won the league rushing title the past four years and holds a 77-yard advantage over Green Bay's Jim Taylor as the teams come up to their final games.

Lou Groza, the Browns' place-kicker, can add to his all-time NFL scoring record every time he makes a point. He has tallied 326 points in 11 seasons.

"We will try to do our best against the Giants," said Cleveland Coach Paul Brown, whose team was eliminated from title contention last Sunday by a 17-14 loss to the Chicago Bears. Brown made one other observation, describing the extended 14-game NFL season in three words: "An endurance contest."

Marinette '5' Hands Lourdes 46-37 Defeat

Komp, Nordest Pace Club Into First Division

MARINETTE — Marinette Central moved into the first division of the Fox Valley Catholic Conference Friday night by upping its record to 2-1 with a 46-37 victory over Lourdes of Oshkosh.

Sam Komp's four quick baskets in the second quarter put the Central quint out of reach as it coasted to a 22-11 lead at halftime.

Lourdes managed to close the gap early in the final stanza, but Marinette went into a full court press which the losers found too much to handle.

Komp and Dick Nordest paced Central in scoring with 13 and 12 points, respectively. Dan Tanty and Mike Schumeth led Lourdes' balanced offense with eight tallies each.

Initial Tournneys Hit Climax Stage

St. John to Meet Kansas State; St. Bonaventure, Louisville Clash

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There will be some high-powered pairings tonight as the season's first major college basketball tournaments reach their climax—and a set of Sunflower State doubleheaders concludes in Kansas.

Duquesne meets familiar rival Pitt for the Steel Bowl title at Pittsburgh. St. Bonaventure and Louisville play in the Bluegrass Festival final at Louisville. Auburn tries for its second straight Birmingham Classic title against Virginia Tech. Seattle takes on St. Mary's Calif., for top place in the City of Roses tourney at Portland, Ore., and St. John's is at Kansas State for a showdown between intersectional powers.

Duquesne (4-0) staged the major surprise Friday night, hanging on for a 66-61 victory over Duke's Blue Devils, who had won their first five starts. Duquesne cut loose late in the first half for a 10-point lead and had enough left at the end to withstand Duke's effective full court press.

Final Minute

Ed Petrovich's two baskets in the final minute and the all-around play of Miles Aiken carried St. Bonaventure (5-0) to its 66-65 squeaker over Western Kentucky in the Bluegrass. Louisville (4-1) pulled away to a 76-60 decision over Texas, getting 48 points from Bud Olsen and Jackie Frazier.

Auburn, clicking on 29 free throws, gained the Birmingham Classic final by clouting Louisville 76-60.

Papermakers Rally to Tip Clintonville

nis Bodoh hit a free throw for the Truckers and Mick Nelson swished a long shot and a pair of charity tosses to tie the game.

Hietpas then went on a personal scoring spree as he hit a field goal and five straight free throws to give the Papermakers a seven-point lead with two minutes left.

Clintonville fought back desperately but the closest the Truckers came was 57-52 with 1:35 showing on the clock. Hietpas and Vander Velden quickly added buckets to hike the Papermaker lead to 61-52. Jack Korb dropped two free throws for the losers with two seconds left.

It was an uphill battle all the way for Coach Dave Gennzer's Papermakers. After opening up a 6-2 lead, Kimberly saw the Truckers fight back and take a 9-7 advantage. At the end of the first period, Clintonville had a 14-11 lead and they held the advantage through the second quarter.

At one point in the second period, Clintonville opened up a 22-15 gap but Rick Polman hit six straight points to cut the advantage to one point. The Truckers had a 24-23 lead at the intermission.

Begin to Move

Kimberly began to move in the third period as Hietpas and Vander Velden scored all 17 points for the Papermakers while Clintonville was held to 13.

Hietpas hit four field goals and a free throw and Vander Velden had four buckets in the third stanza. Hietpas scored a field goal at 2:55 to tie the score at 31-31 and Vander Velden put the Papermakers in the lead with a tip-in at 2:36. Kimberly led, 40-37 at the end of the quarter.

Hietpas led the Papermakers with 24 points and Polman helped out with 15. Nelson topped the Truckers with 20 points.

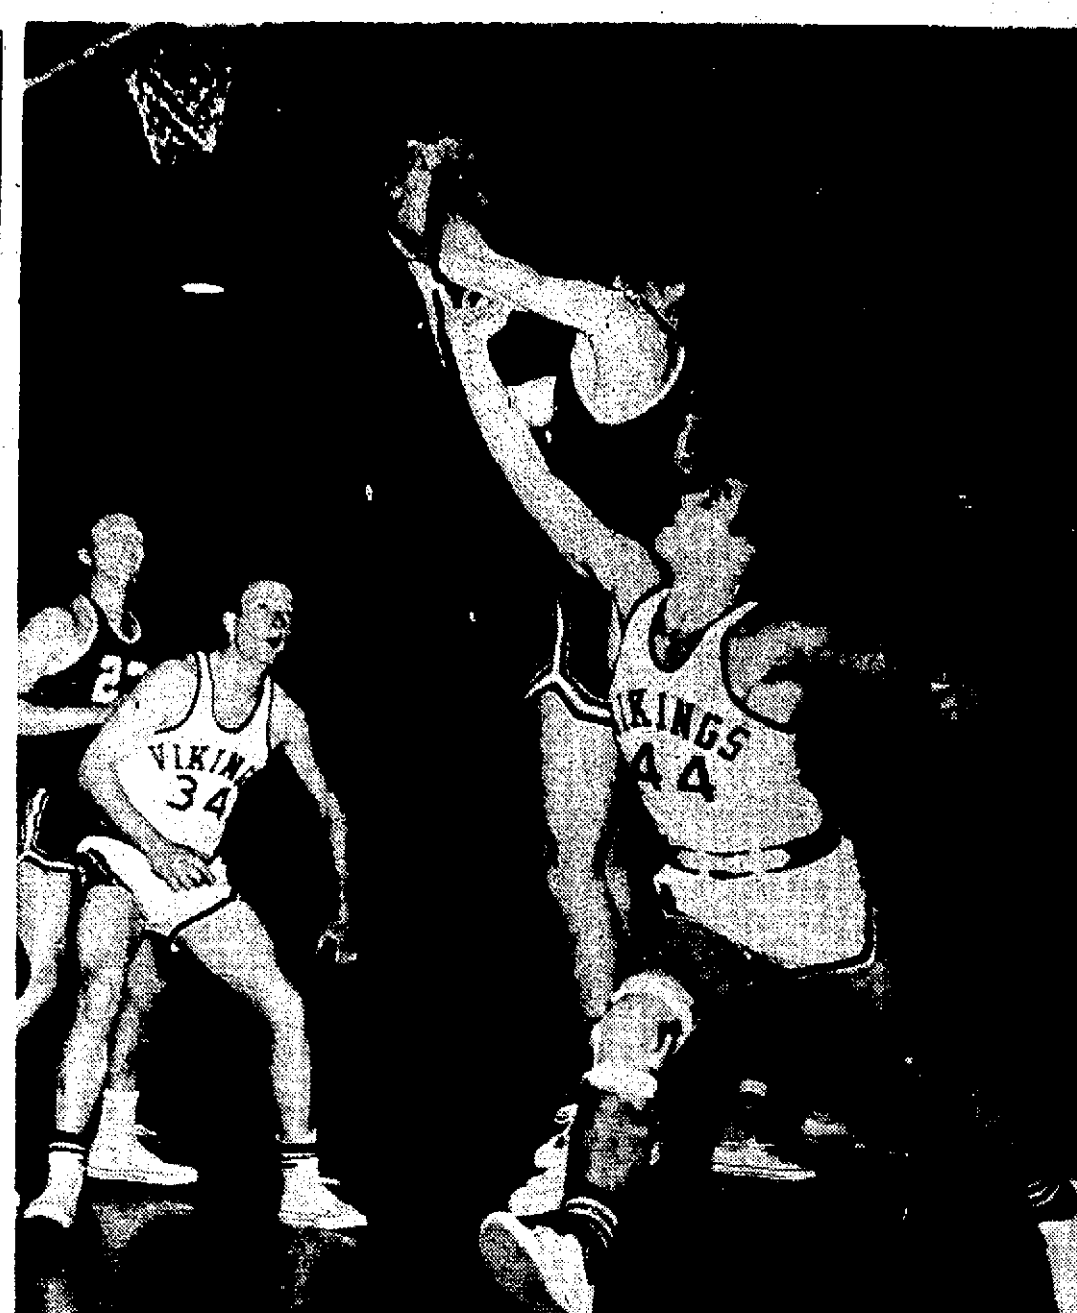

Fondy Quint Wins, 73-54, Over North

Post-Crescent News Service

FOND DU LAC — Coming back strong from a 11-point second quarter deficit, the surprising Fond du Lac Cardinals beat Sheboygan North handily, 73-54, here Friday night to retain the undisputed Fox River Valley Conference lead.

North held a 28-17 edge in the second quarter but the Cards rallied to trim the count to 32-27 at halftime. Fond du Lac outscored Sheboygan 22-13 in the third period and 24-9 in the last quarter.

Tony Meade, with 22 points, and Chuck Bloedorn, with 18, led Fond du Lac to its third straight conference victory. Pete Mergenau was top man for North with 20 points.

Lawrence's Fred Flom (44) makes an all-out effort to wrest the basketball from Cornell's Ron Parmley (25) in Friday night's game. Other players are the Vikes' Jim Jordan (34) and the Rams' Dick Calbow (23).

Reedsville, a hot and cold team thus far this year, shot 56 percent from the field. Its half-time edge was 42-15.

Dick Diener dropped in 30 points for Reedsville to take scoring honors. Bear Creek's Mike McClone recorded 22 before fouling out.

Big Second Quarter

The rebounding of 6-4 Ray Gomm, and the scoring of Russ Conradt made the difference in the Shiocton upset. The defending Little Nine champions used the big second quarter to trip the Polar Bears.

Conradt, who has averaged 27 points a game this year, slipped in 28 Friday before fouling out. Bill Spaulding's 15 points was at the top of a well-divided Hortonville punch.

In one of the wildest games of the year, Winneconne spurted away from a 42-42 fourth period deadlock to a 40-42 lead to beat Omro. The game was punctuated by occasional temper outbursts between the two rivals.

The balanced scoring of the Wolves offset a 33-point effort by Omro's Doug Kintopf. He hit 11 baskets and 11 of 13 free throw attempts. Dave Poehlman's 18 points was high for the winners.

Freedom and Hilbert both shot well Friday and the result was 140 points. The 49 per cent field average of the Irish offset the

South Quintet Wins, 75-54, Over Oshkosh

Take Second Win On Hot Shooting And Zone Defense

SHEBOYGAN — Using a zone effectively in pushing to a 47-20 halftime lead, Sheboygan South went on to defeat Oshkosh, 75-54, Friday night in a Fox River Valley League game. South now has a 2-1 league mark and Oshkosh is 1-2.

South shot a red-hot 58 per cent in the first half as it rolled to a 23-11 opening period margin and increased it to the 27-point halftime bulge. Despite an Oshkosh press in the second half, South maintained the 20 point margin most of the final two periods.

The rebounding of South's John Cinealis spelled the difference. Cinealis also ended as the games top scorer with 19 points, although three other South players had 12 or more. Roger Beck connected for 18, and Tom Witasek had 15 for the Indians.

Lions Hang Anderson In Effigy

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions players hanged General Manager Edwin J. Anderson in effigy from the goal posts in Tiger Stadium Friday.

The incident occurred shortly after news of the loss of the Lions' three top college draft choices for 1962 reached the club locker room.

The three draftees, Kansas half-back John Hadl, Arizona quarterback Eddie Wilson and halfback Bobby Thompson all reportedly are lost to the Lions and committed to other teams.

The Detroit Free Press quoted the players as criticising Anderson for "losing our future."

When head coach George Wilson and the other coaches went onto the practice field, the players were pointing toward a dummy hanging from the goal posts marked "E.J.A."

A half hour later the figure was cut down from the goal posts.

Anderson, told of the incident, had no comment.

Thilmany Hikes Its Share of Savings Fund

Company to Add 40 Cents to Each Dollar Saved by Employees

KAUKAUNA — C. L. Dostal, president of the Thilmany Pulp and Paper Company, announced recently that the company has added an additional 15 per cent to the usual 25 per cent contributed to each dollar saved by employees in the Thilmany Employee Association members' fund this year.

Thus for each dollar an employee puts into the fund, Thilmany will contribute 40 cents. Employees with one year or more of service may join the savings plan and may have from 2 to 5 per cent of their earnings contributed through payroll deduction.

Deadline for employees to join the association or for members to make changes in percentage of earnings being saved is Jan. 1, 1962. If an employee remains in the members' fund for 10 years, he will receive the total amount of company contribution when he retires or if he withdraws.

If an employee withdraws before being in the fund 10 years, he receives 10 per cent of the company contribution for each year he has been in the fund. The fund is a savings plan with a profit-sharing feature. The total members' fund is in excess of $2,367,824.

Hospital Committee To Name Directors

KAUKAUNA — Ten directors will be elected at a meeting of the Kaukauna Community Hospital committee at 4:30 p.m. Monday in the council chambers of the municipal building, according to Dr. George L. Boyd, president.

Pulp Executives Hear Report on Process for Utilizing Spent Sulphite

$185,000 Research Budget for 1962
Also Approved at Appleton Meeting

Top-level executives of major companies that manufacture 43 per cent of all U. S. pulp met at Conway Hotel Friday and heard detailed reports of a new process that has been developed by League scientists for making useful products from organic materials in spent sulphite liquor which now must be released into streams.

A 1962 research budget of $185,000 for the Sulphite Pulp Manufacturers' Research League also was approved.

League Technical Director Averett J. Wiley explained that this process involves large-scale adaptations of a technique called electro-dialysis now under test by the U. S. Government for desalting and purifying seawater so that it can be used for drinking and irrigation.

By sending constituent materials of spent sulphite liquor through dense membranes, using electrical currents in the process, it is possible to separate the pulping chemicals from the dissolved wood organics.

Besides salable byproducts, electro-dialysis recovers pulping chemicals and purified water for reuse in the mill.

"We know from our laboratory work just what the process is capable of doing," Wiley declared. "But further study is needed to provide more exact knowledge of what it will cost on a commercial scale per gallon of spent liquor and per pound of finished material. When we have these essential figures, we shall be in a position to explore future markets with prospective industrial customers and thus learn whether this treatment can be used to improve oxygen conditions of mill streams at cost that will be economically supportable."

Berlin Loss Would Leave U.S. Alone

Harvard Professor Says It Would Shake Belief in American Foreign Policies

Woman Found Unconscious In Parked Car

A young Appleton woman who was found unconscious in a parked and running car early this morning is in good condition at Appleton Memorial Hospital today after being treated for carbon monoxide poisoning.

An Appleton policeman found Sandra Deltour, 21, 1827 N. Charlotte St., unconscious at 3:40 a.m. today in her parked car in the 400 block of E. South River St.

A patrolman summoned help when he had trouble awakening her. He said she did not want to go to the hospital but was taken after she passed out several times. Miss Deltour was given oxygen and first aid at Appleton Memorial Hospital.

She told police she had taken her boy friend home after picking him up after work. The car was parked near his house.

Police said the car windows were closed except for one wing window which was partially open.

OSHKOSH — The United States must defend Berlin unless we want to be reduced to a fortress alone against the world, Henry A. Kissinger told some 600 people who attended the second of the Oshkosh State College lecture series at the Grand Theater.

Speaking on foreign policy, Dr. Kissinger, who is professor of international politics at Harvard University, said the multiplicity of problems facing us today often causes people to judge unfairly our foreign policy makers.

Reflecting on the Berlin situation, Dr. Kissinger said loss of Berlin would shake the foundations of all our policies all over the world. "The issue is," he added, "if the Soviets gain their objectives in Berlin, no one will ever believe our word anywhere."

Never again, he said, will we be able to live with the feeling of safety as we did before World War II. "Crisis and upheaval will be normal conditions."

Kissinger said that if we want peace we must be strong and have a flexible military policy. "If we are weak in any way Russia will lose all reason for a peaceful settlement."

It is no longer possible, he said, to rely entirely on the massive retaliation policies of a few years ago. "If this wasn't true there wouldn't be a Berlin crisis."

One of our big failings, Kissinger contended, is our lack of understanding of how the communist mind operates. Theory is much more important to them than it is to us, he said, and the communist singleness of purpose is something we do not have in our society.

The leadership of the communists is developed in a massive internal power struggle, which, Kissinger said, extends to their dealings with the United States.

Personal goodwill and diplomacy means nothing to the communist leaders, he added, with the end result that many of our maxims do not work.

Will Be Transformed Despite the seemingly superior position of the communists today, Kissinger predicted the communist societies ultimately will fall and sooner or later will be transformed.

Lesson in English

BY W. L. GORDON

Words often misused: Do not say, "That's all the faster my car will go." Say, "That's AS FAST as my car will go."

Often mispronounced: Globular. Pronounce the "o" as in "rob," and not as in "globe."

Often misspelled: Skull (bone of the head). Scull (an oar).

Synonyms: Entertainment, amusement, cheer, delight, diversion, enjoyment, frolic, sport, pleasure, recreation, merriment.

Word study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word: minatory: threatening; menacing. "The antagonist's minatory frowns at each other."

1 How does the weight of men and women today compare with their weights of 30 years ago?

2 What species of snake causes more death in India than any other?

3 What is the origin of the "ox-ford" type of shoe?

4 How does murder differ from homicide?

5 In which Shakespearean play appear the characters, Oberon, Titania, and Puck?

Answers

1 The average American male today tips the scales at three to five pounds more, while the American female now weighs between one and five pounds less than she did in 1930.

2 The krait, which is a cousin of the cobra.

3 From Oxford, England, where that type of the footwear was made and worn in the early part of the 17th century.

4 Homicide means simply the killing of another person, while murder means killing a person with malice aforethought.

5 "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Q. How extensive is the vocabulary of a parakeet? Edward J. Grant, New York, N.Y.

A. Some parakeets are quite verbose, others learn only a few words or phrases. While the vocabularies of some parakeets go as high as 50 or more words, it takes a really intelligent bird to use the appropriate phrases at the proper time. I recently encountered an 11 year old parakeet whose owner claimed it could use several hundred words. While this is unusual, we know that the colorful little birds continue to learn as they grow older. If your bird learns only a little even after a lot of patient training, don't be disappointed. They can't all be great orators.

Great Air Disaster Occurred Year Ago

134 Persons Lost Their Lives
In Collision Over Staten Island

BY ROBERT R. HOLTEN
NEW YORK (AP)—One year ago today commercial aviation shuddered under the impact of its worst disaster—the loss of 134 lives in the collision of two huge airliners over Staten Island.

The sky was choked with falling snow and heavy fog when fate singled out an obscure Brooklyn intersection 10 miles from the impact to play a major role in the tragedy.

Several large slabs of concrete still are missing from the sidewalk along Sterling Place.

You can no longer buy a lamb roast or pork chops in the little 7th Avenue butcher shop. It's been torn down.

Gone too is the friendly little grocery store that for so many years huddled next to it in the Prospect Slope area.

Church Site Vacant
Nothing remains but two littered, vacant lots.

Parishioners of the Pillar of Fire Church worship elsewhere—the site of their tiny church also has become a vacant lot—clean and free from debris, but very vacant.

The worn brownstone tenement at 28 7th Ave. is deserted. No. 26 7th Ave. has been reduced to a disorderly pile of rubble, refuse and occasional piles of garbage. Other tenements farther down the street bear ugly pit marks and deep scars on their worn, stone fronts.

At 10:34 a.m., Dec. 16, a United Air Lines DC-8 jet and a fourengined Trans World Airlines Constellation completed a collision course. All 44 passengers and crew members of the Constellation were killed as were the 84 occupants of the jet and 6 persons on the ground in the Prospect Slope area.

The Constellation smashed into a field near some homes in Staten Island.

Loss on Ground Light
Considering the crowded condition of the Brooklyn area where the jet crashed, property damage and loss of life on the ground was light.

Raymond Nordstrom said he still finds slivers of aluminum and other debris from the wreckage imbedded in the ground in the back yard of his home at 30 7th Ave.

"I have been saving the slivers and things to remind me what that day meant to a lot of people," he said.

It was the 57-year-old Nordstrom, awakened from his sleep by the crash not 50 feet from his front door, who brought a blanket to cover the one short-lived survivor of the crash.

Boy Died Next Day
He was 11-year-old Stephen Blatz, of Wilmette, Ill., who died the next day in the hospital.

"I can still see the poor child laying there propped up against a snow bank and all burned and cut," Nordstrom recalled.

Many of the residents still flinch when they pass over the section of missing concrete. It was there that a 27-year-old man and his uncle were standing when the plane crashed and killed them both.

They were selling Christmas trees.

The parishioners of Pillar of Fire Church offer regular prayers for the late 90-year-old Wallace Lewis. He was tending the church furnace when the bulk of the jet wreckage tore the brick edifice to bits.

Other Memories
In a garage next to the church site there linger still other memories for the dozens who set up an emergency morgue there. The same is true of a vacant shop where other dead were taken to await the trip to a morgue.

The records of the crash tell how the jet was believed 11 miles off course at the time of impact. Some say its instruments were not functioning properly.

They contain taped recordings of conversations between the control towers at Idlewild and La Guardia airports.

"I think we have trouble here with a TWA Connie," a control tower man exclaimed. "There's something wrong! He's not moving or anything! He might have got hit by another airplane!"

Seconds later the two planes collided.

2 in Court for Tipsy Driving One Fined, Other Will be Sentenced At Oshkosh Feb. 23

One man was fined and another will be sentenced Feb. 23 on drunken driving charges.

Patrick J. Dodd, 22, route 1, Winneconne, pleaded no contest when he was arraigned before Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane Friday at Oshkosh.

Judge Cane ordered Dodd to attend the traffic safety institute and set sentencing for Feb. 23. Dodd was involved in an accident on State 21 Oct. 28 in which a motorcycle driver was seriously injured.

Joseph T. Van Laarhoven, 35, Elm Street, Combined Locks, pleaded guilty of drunken driving and was fined $120 and had his driver's license revoked for one year when arraigned before Anton Jansen, justice of the peace, Friday.

Van Laarhoven was arrested by Combined Locks police at 11:30 p.m. Thursday when his auto struck a parked car on Elm Street. The man refused to take the drunkometer test.

Laird Says Guard May be Home by July

FRANCES MCKUSICK

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — Wisconsin Reservists and National Guardsmen now on active duty may be released to go home before July 1, Rep. Melvin R. Laird, Marshfield, predicted today.

The congressman, who is a member of the house appropriations subcommittee on defense, bases his prediction on information he received during recent conferences on the tentative defense program for fiscal 1963, which commences on July 1, 1962, and is to be submitted by President Kennedy in early January.

"There were no funds requested in the tentative budget for the defense department to continue the present active duty program of Reserve units and National Guard units called up for this year by the President," Laird said.

Big Five Favors Limiting Advance Grid Scheduling

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Big Five Conference will ask the National Collegiate Athletic Association to limit advance football scheduling to four years.

The conference council went on record favoring this limitation Friday after hearing a report that some schedules are now being made for 1968.

Also discussed was possible expansion, presumably to include Oregon State, Oregon and Washington State. These schools plus Idaho, were members of the now-defunct Pacific Coast Conference. The other members of that loop are in the Big Five.

Dr. Arthur R. Kooker of the University of Southern California, conference president, said the council favored expansion.

Determination in Latin America

Kennedy Trip Stresses Opposition to Castro

BY JAMES C. DEWEY

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — President Kennedy flies to this lofty capital Sunday for what is regarded as a demonstration of U.S. determination to battle the forces of Castroism and Communism in Latin America.

In Bogota—it is 8,661 feet above sea level—Kennedy will be the guest of an acknowledged leader in the battle, President Alberto Lleras Camargo, who only this week broke relations with Fidel Castro's Cuba and denounced it as a threat to stability in Latin America.

Lleras, 55, a veteran of 30 years in the turbulent politics of Colombia, is one of many Latin-American chief executives beset by enormous economic and political problems—a situation which President Kennedy's Alliance for Progress is designed to counter.

Population Growth
This nation is fifth largest in land area, fourth largest in population—15 million—in Latin America. Population growth is a major problem. It is advancing 2.8 per cent annually.

To attack economic problems, Colombia has, ready for operation, plans for social and economic development. Last month a land reform program was adopted over serious opposition. The government also has plans ready for housing, education and hygiene projects.

There are complex political problems, too.

Since Dictator Gustavo Rojas Pinilla fell in 1957, Colombia has been operating under a system that divides government posts equally between the two dominant parties, liberal and conservative. The plan would require liberal President Lleras to step down in voice in the search for collective favor of a conservative in next hemisphere measures to meet May's presidential election. But pressures from Castro-Communist plan shows signs of cracking, nist elements.

Pair Pays in Pennies For Marriage License

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—A young couple paid for their marriage license in pennies Friday.

Victor E. Stamey, 20, of Summa, a college student, and Wanda Kay Mills, 18, of Chickasaw, a secretary, said they paid in pennies so they could tell their children they had to save their pennies in order to get married.

under current political strains.

Liberals Split
The liberals are divided between supporters of Lleras and the alternation plan, on the one hand, and a smaller group led by Alfonso Lopez Michelsen, which contends the front government tends to freeze the status quo.

The conservatives also are split. One group, supported by small landholders, follows veteran politician Laureano Gomez in opposition to the national front government. The other, including powerful industrialists and plantation owners, supports former President Mariano Ospina Perez and the alternation plan.

Political uncertainty causes loss of investor confidence, and foreign exchange reserves are declining. Coffee prices—representing three-fourths of Colombia's dollar earnings—have dropped steadily over seven years. The cost of living is rising.

The Colombian president is fluent in English and no stranger to the United States. Only last year he spent two weeks there, and he was Colombia's ambassador in Washington in 1954.

Lleras' program has been one of belt-tightening for economic stability, to halt the decline brought on by excesses of the Rojas dictatorship. In addition, he looks upon as an important President Lleras to step down in voice in the search for collective favor of a conservative in next hemisphere measures to meet May's presidential election. But pressures from Castro-Communist plan shows signs of cracking, nist elements.

New London Woman Hurt in Car Crash
NEW LONDON — A New London woman received possible fractured ribs when she was involved in a two-car crash at 6:15 p.m. Thursday.

The accident occurred at Jennings Street and Lawrence Street. Police said the Sanders car was traveling north on Lawrence Street when it struck the Huzzar car traveling east on Jennings Street.

Both drivers were alone at the time of the crash. Estimated damage to the two cars was over $400, for approximately $7 million.

Library Declares Book Return Days

NEENAH — No fines will be charged for overdue books returned to Neenah Public Library from Dec. 18 through 29. Ernest R. Kunert, head librarian, said today.

All fines for overdue books will be forgiven during this period in order to encourage borrowers to return books which may have been misplaced for a time, or which the borrower, for some reason, simply neglected to return.

"It will not be a matter of whether the books are one day overdue or whether they should have been returned 50 years ago," he said. "No questions will be asked and no fines charged. No effort will be made to determine who borrowed the books, and no record will be kept of overdue books returned during the period."

This opportunity to return overdue books will not be repeated, Kunert emphasized. Beginning Jan. 1, 1962, a more stringent policy will be followed concerning the collection of these books.

Clintonville Will Receive Tax Refund

This is an increase of $3,076.78 from last year. Last year the amount the city received was $665.50. The increase is due principally to the coming of natural gas to this area, and the amount of the value of the property held in Clintonville by the gas company.

Roadbinder To be Tested On State 44

Highway Dept. to Try New Sulphite Top This Winter

OSHKOSH — A two-mile stretch of State 44 between Pickett and Oshkosh is being tested by the State Highway Department to measure the effectiveness of sulphite roadbinder in dust laying and road surface stabilizing. Lake States Roadbinder Association announced today.

Just before this week's big snowstorm 14 tank-truckloads of sulphite roadbinder totaling 56,000 gallons were spread on a well-prepared 40-foot wide section of Route 44 that is graded and ready for blacktopping next spring. Purpose of applying roadbinder now is to keep the gravel surface in best possible condition for traffic meanwhile.

When the test is completed next spring, the sulphite-treated mileage will be compared with adjacent stretches that have been treated with long-established types of roadbinder. The test miles will be checked not only for condition of surface but also for costs of material, application, and maintenance.

Sulphite roadbinder for the tests came from Kimberly-Clark Corporation's Kimberly mill where it is produced in that company's program to improve oxygen conditions in the Fox River. Contractor on the Highway 44 job is Courtney & Plummer, Neenah.

INSURANCE

COORDINATED PLANNING

The average property owner carries not one, but a great many policies. In such cases there may be overlapping of coverages and in other instances a gap in the protection that is needed.

A thorough review of the policies to determine how the insurance program can best be coordinated and thus reduce the number of contracts and payments is the modern trend and an economical one to insurance planning.
